

5 Simple Romantic Date Ideas

5 Simple Romantic Date Ideas

Here are some simple, fairly inexpensive date ideas for those of you who wish to add a little romance to your relationship:

1) A picnic in the middle of your living room, with a nice bottle of wine, candles and the music of your choice.

2)
A candle lit dinner in your own backyard, patio or terrace. Use the stars as your backdrop and the candles to create intimacy.

3) If there is a river or lake nearby see if there is a company that does champagne river or boat tours. As your guide relates the local habitat, you and your honey can snuggle under a blanket and share a toast to your relationship.

4) Picnic in your local park or at your local beach. Enjoy feeding each other finger foods and fresh berries.

5)
Call your local culinary school and see if you can hire one of the chefs in training to cook for the two of you. There prices may be more reasonable than a dinner out, plus

1)you don't have to worry about how much you drink

2) the mess is cleaned up for you

3) you can slip into the bedroom and into your lingerie, while he tips your chef and sends him or her on her way

These are just a few simple date ideas, that you can try with your sweetie without breaking the bank.

Caterina

Christakos is the author of the Seduction Game for Women. To learn even more ways of adding spice to your relationship go to: seductiondiva.com