The 4 Most Powerful Speed Dating Questions

In speed dating, there is limited time to get to learn your potential date. The time is usually five to eight minutes. If well utilized this is enough time to help you analyze all the people and come out with the lover of your dreams.

Do you start asking her which of your dogs can bark more? I tend to think that this is irrelevant. Go straight to the business. Now to achieve success in speed dating, you have to be really smart. To avoid wasting any time, come up with a list of speed dating questions. They will do you miracles. Arrange them in order of priority and you won't get disappointed. Wow! top on the list of speed dating questions should be her name. Do not be so much in a hurry and you forget to ask somebody their name. Introduction should be the very first thing in conjunction with a warm handshake and that ear to ear charming smile.

After getting the name, you should derive a cocky name from it. For example if the name is Kennedy, you can come up with Eddy. Keep on using it all the way through the supposedly love interview. It works miracles! Second on the speed dating questions list should be about the origin or place of residence. This will help you know whether there is a possibility of a long distance relationships. If so you can learn how to cope with it. It also makes you aware of the possible cultural differences. All these knowledge is important in dating. It affects the future of a relationship. After the speed dating exercise, the participants zero down to more tradition ways of maintaining the relationship. This details if assumed can bring future problems.

Another important point to consider while jotting down speed dating questions is about the occupation. What the person does for a living might help you judge their character without having to venture so much into their personal life. I am sure you associate something with a certain carrier. What do you know about policemen? There sexual prowess is talked about all the time but they can be Casanovas if they don't restrict themselves. Journalists are known to be outgoing and fun loving. While still at this, you can throw in a question about her/his hobbies, likes and dislikes, taste in music. There is so much you can gather within that short time. Get to know her habits like, does she/he smoke or drink? Are you comfortable with this?

"Do you believe in love at first sight?" A wonderful query to include in your list of speed dating questions. The exercise is entirely based on first impression. It says a lot about you. If the person believes in it, he/she will be inquisitive about who you are as a person. The answer will give you the mood and the approach on how to treat your potential date. Speed dating questions are a proper guide to help you achieve your objectives. Once you have pinpointed the love of your life, you can work on it using all the relationship enhancing techniques. Your fast busy life will no longer hinder you from dating the best.
